STUDIO 69

1969 is an iconic year; the first man landing on the moon, Woodstock, The Beatles record Abbey Road and hundreds of thousands of people protested the Vietnam War. This is also the year our founder, Jean-Charles Boisset, entered the world.

These events shaped a new generation of visionaries and artists that would release their energy and creativity in the legendary, New York nightclub, Studio 54. Nights filled with music, lights, and dancing among the most influential personalities of the time created an extraordinary atmosphere that continues to inspire and intrigue dreamers around the world.

Studio 69 Côtes de Provence Rosé is a celebration of this glamour and exuberance. It combines the class and luxury of Provence with the versatility and ease of a beautiful Rosé.

TERROIR

Our selection comes from an area around the Montagne Sainte Victoire, which is a magnificent limestone mountain ridge located east of the town of Aix-en-Provence and celebrated in the paintings of Cézanne.

The vines cover the slopes of the Arc valley and are influenced by a continental climate, protected to the south from maritime effects by the Aurélien Mountains and the Sainte Baume Mountain Ridge. The stony, well-drained soil that has formed around this mountain ridge in addition to a cooler climate yield livelier, well-structured wines with exceptional balance.

TASTING NOTES

Brilliant, rose-petal pink in color. The nose is delicate with aromas of red berries, citrus and spicy white blossoms. Soft and delectable on the palate with floral notes and flavors of white fruit. Boasts remarkable balance and a fresh finish.
